

More institutions are being released from the requirement to stamp official documents, the Investments and Development Ministry announced last Tuesday. This is the result of six of eleven government regulations...

Order subscription to read this article